

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements

Foreword

Executive Summary

1 Introduction to China

- 1.1 Country Overview
 - 1.1.1 Geography
 - 1.1.2 Population
 - 1.1.3 Language and Ethnic Groups
- 1.2 Administrative Divisions

2 Economic Overview of China

- 2.1 National Economy
 - 2.1.1 Gross Domestic Product (GDP)
 - 2.1.2 Performance of Key Sectors
 - 2.1.3 International Trade
 - 2.1.4 Inflation
 - 2.1.5 Fiscal Policy
 - 2.1.6 Exchange Rates
- 2.2 Spending Power
 - 2.2.1 Income Levels
 - 2.2.2 Income Distribution
- 2.3 Regional Economy

3 The Regulatory Environment of Tourism

- 3.1 Government's Role in Travel and Tourism
- 3.2 Passports
- 3.3 Approved Destination Status (ADS)
- 3.4 Visas
 - 3.4.1 General Regulations and Visa Fees
 - 3.4.2 Absconding Tourists
- 3.5 Exchange Controls
- 3.6 Holiday Entitlement

4 Aviation Overview

- 4.1 Background
 - 4.1.1 The World's Second Largest Civil Aviation Market in the Next Decade
 - 4.1.2 Reorganisation of Civil Aviation
- 4.2 The Airport Transport Environment
 - 4.2.1 Airport Capacity Strained
 - 4.2.2 The 'Big Three' Dominate International Routes
 - 4.2.3 The Leading Players
- 4.3 International Airline Services
 - 4.3.1 Chinese Traffic Rights Currently Underutilised
 - 4.3.2 Routes to Europe
 - 4.3.3 European Airlines Marketing Initiatives
 - 4.3.4 Outlook for European Airlines in China

5 Travel Agencies in China

5.1 Travel Distribution

- 5.1.1 An Expanding Market with Increasing Competition
- 5.1.2 Joint Ventures with Foreign Companies
- 5.1.3 Tour Groups versus Fully Independent Travellers (FITs)
- 5.1.4 Simplifying and Clarifying Rules Governing Travel Agencies

5.2 Online Travel

- 5.2.1 Growing Importance of the Internet
- 5.2.2 E-commerce in China
- 5.2.3 Online Travel 'Looking' and 'Booking'
- 5.2.4 NTOs' Use of the Internet for Marketing
- 5.2.5 Online Travel Agencies
- 5.2.6 Prospects for Online Travel

6 The Outbound Travel Market

6.1 Introduction: A Large and Fast-Growing Market

6.2 Overview of Outbound Trips and Expenditure

6.2.1 Departures

6.2.2 Expenditure

6.2.3 Breakdown of Spending

6.2.4 Domestic Travel: Tomorrow's Outbound Travellers

6.3 Drivers and Sources of Outbound Travel

6.3.1 Main Drivers of Travel Growth

6.3.2 Geographical Sources of Chinese Outbound Travel

6.4 Destinations Visited

6.4.1 Chinese Departures as Reported by China

6.4.2 Chinese Arrivals as reported by Destinations around the World

6.4.3 Chinese Arrivals as reported by Hong Kong and Macao

6.4.4 Chinese Arrivals as reported by Other Destinations in Asia and the Pacific

6.4.5 Chinese Arrivals as reported by Destinations in Europe

6.4.6 Chinese Arrivals as reported by Destinations in the Americas

6.4.7 Chinese Arrivals as reported by Destinations in Africa and the Middle East

7 Profile of the Chinese Traveller

7.1 Key Characteristics

7.2 Disposable Incomes and Propensity to Travel

7.3 Changing Lifestyles and Shifting Demographics

7.3.1 Travel by Age Group

7.3.2 Age and Income Groups with the Main Growth Potential

7.3.3 Education Levels

7.3.4 Travelling Companions

7.4 Traveller Preferences by Region

7.4.1 Beijing

7.4.2 Shanghai

7.4.3 Guangzhou

7.5 Seasonality

7.6 Purpose of Trip

7.6.1 Private/Leisure Travel Gains Share at the Expense of Public/Business Trips

7.6.2 Public/Business Travel

7.6.3 Private/Leisure Travel

8 How to Market International Destinations in China

8.1 European NTOs in China

8.1.1 Necessary Presence

8.1.2 Slow Return on Investment

8.2 Doing Business with the Chinese

8.3 The Chinese Media

8.3.1 Chinese Newspapers and News Sites

8.3.2 Advertising: A Changing Landscape

8.3.3 Radio

8.3.4 Television

8.3.5 Internet

8.4 Other Promotion Tools

8.4.1 Travel Fairs

8.4.2 Credit Cards

9 Future Prospects for Chinese Tourism

9.1 An Increasingly Sophisticated Market

9.1.1 Dynamic Growth Set to Continue

9.1.2 The Main Drivers of Growth

9.1.3 Caveats

9.2 Prospects for Europe

9.2.1 Focus on the Medium to Longer Term

9.2.2 Europe Prominent on the Chinese Traveller's 'Wish List'

Annexes

Annex I Countries with Approved Destination Status (ADS)

Annex II Schengen Countries

Annex III Leading Outbound Travel Agencies in China

Annex IV Travel Trade Events in China

Annex V Airlines Operating Non-stop Services from China and Hong Kong to Europe

List of Abbreviations

Bibliography